Organisational Support & Quality Improvement Team

Our story so far and what we could do for you...

The story so far....

- Our Organisational Development & Quality Improvement Team was not originally part of the AACE offer when we were, as a membership organisation formally constituted in 2012.
- AACE were first commissioned by the wider NHS to provide these tailor-made services to one of our member organisations in 2014
- We have seen the demand and development for these services significantly grow over the last 10 years.
- Our services are delivered to clients through a team of independent Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) who have a significant level of executive and senior experience across a wide breadth of specialties. The team are also supported by core members of the core AACE team as and when required.

Supportive ethos

The detail

- Working collaboratively with the client we will bring together the unique skills, experience and expertise of our team to forensically understand the challenges and where requested provide a comprehensive evidential diagnostic report for the client.
- We work closely to enable our clients to develop and implement evidence-based organisational change with a focus on improved patient outcomes and staff wellbeing
- Our AACE team of independent Subject Matter Experts add a unique level of experience and capability to augment that of your own teams, building internal capacity and capability.
- As a not-for-profit organisation we reinvest all commercial income to support continued innovation and enhanced capabilities
